17 days have gone by since the promise was made to repair the road between Pahokee and Belle Glade—and, as yet I have not seen a thing to make me believe anything is going to be done about it.

You don't suppose somebody is kiddin' somebody—do you?

Foster Of Belle Glade Is Captain

ROME ARMY AIR FIELD, N. Y.—Hamilton S. Foster, of 259 N. E. 3rd St., Miami, Fla., has been promoted from 1st Lieutenant to Captain in the Air Service Command of the Army Air Forces, it was announced here today by Brig. Gen. C. P. Kane, Commanding General, Rome Air Service Command.

Commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant in the Reserve Corps in 1938 Captain Foster was called to active duty in July, 1942, at Lowery Field, Col., reporting here in August, 1942.

He is a member of Belle Glade, Rotary Club, Pahokee Elk's Club, the Palm Beach County and Florida State Bar Associations, and was historian of the Gainesville, Fla., Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Captain Foster is the son of Mrs. Sara H. Foster, 259 N. E. 3rd St., Miami.

The magazine, Business Week predicts plenty of trouble for OPA and WFA when their appeal for subsidies comes up shortly in Congress. The plan calls for paying the farmer more and selling to the consumer at a loss, to roll back the cost of living, but as taxpayers take the rap either way it is not popular with Congress.

Ed Hamilton Is Candidate For Seat In Congress

Edgar G. Hamilton of West Palm Beach, familiarly known to his many friends as Ed, formally opens the race for the Democratic nomination for Congressman from the newly created Sixth Congressional District, which includes this County, with the announcement today of his candidacy.

Mr. Hamilton has been prominently mentioned as a probable candidate since the creation of the District at the last session of the Legislature and is the first to formally announce. He ran third in a field of five in 1942, from the old Fourth District. That field included the incumbent, Rep. Pat Cannon of Miami, and Hon. B. F. Paty of West Palm Beach, who was a strong candidate for Governor in 1940.

Mr. Hamilton is a lawyer and also operates a farm and citrus grove. He has, for several years, been interested in the cattle business in this state and is currently developing a considerable acreage in the south end of Palm Beach County and north end of Broward County as a cattle ranch.

He recognizes the advantages of this district and is, likewise, aware of its problems. He envisions for this District a tremendous development and a great future.

Mr. Hamilton points out the growth and development of the various communities in this district in the past few years and calls attention to the resources of the district in support of his prediction for greater things to come.

Ed Hamilton is 33 years of age, born in Abbeville, Georgia, and has been a resident of West Palm Beach for 19 years. He has practiced law in the Florida and Federal Courts for nearly 10-years, and he is admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of the United States.

He is a member of the Northwood Baptist Church, the Civitan Club of West Palm Beach, the Elks and of the Palm Beach County, State and American Bar Associations.

Mr. Hamilton has long been interested in youth work, and has served as a member of the advisory Board of the Palm Beach Junior College, and as a member of the board of directors of the Boy's Club, and is now serving as Chairman of the Honor Court of the Boy Scouts of America. He is past president and life member of the Palm Beach County Athletic Association, and is now serving as Secretary-Treasurer of the Florida District of Civitan International, and a member of the West Palm Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Hamilton is married and has two sons, David Jan, age 7, and Glenn, age 4.

Mr. Hamilton states:

"Our people have the ability, the courage, the determination and the vision necessary for progress—our country has the natural resources — climate, fertile soil, good roads, fine ports, waterways, railroads, air fields and other advantages. We have demonstrated our possibilities in the past. One of the chief industries in the district is the Number One vegetable producing county in the United States. Others of our counties are leaders in the cattle business, and all are interested in agriculture and livestock. Nowhere is finer citrus produced. Our fishing industry provides employment for many hundreds of our citizens who are doing their part to help feed the nation. We have unlimited attractions for our tourists and the tourists business will continue to be one of our great industries. We have great social, cultural and educational opportunities, splendid schools and churches. These are but a few of the many advantages that will lead to the development of this area.

"We must realize our problems, and seek their solutions. First, we must work and plan now to make ready for the men and women returning from the armed services, in order that they may not only have a place, but an active part,

Delray Beach Is Opponent Tonite For Blue Devils

Coach Frank O'Steen will send his Pahokee Blue Devils into battle tonight against the Delray Beach Seahawks at 8:30 o'clock on Lair field in Pahokee. It will be the Blue Devils' second game of the season, having defeated Belle Glade Golden Rams in the opener by a score of 39 to 0.

Coach O'Steen's charges are in fair condition for the game tonight despite the fact that some of the boys are out on account of injuries. Billy Bridges is suffering from a couple of cracked ribs and James Stokes Smith has a foot injury. James McCall and two more Devils are suffering from light colds.

A great deal of time has been spent since the opening game in perfecting an aerial offensive. If playing conditions are favorable tonight fans may see the aerial offense in action.

The Blue Devils under the coaching of Frank O'Steen have shown great promise so far this year. From a bunch of new material the Pahokee coach has built up a splendid aggregation of foot ball players. Many of them are playing for the first time this season. All the boys are showing a lot of determination to win places on the starting line-up and before the close of the 1943 season local fans may see development of several outstanding gridiron stars.

Senator Graham Of Dade May Run For Governor

MIAMI, Oct. 7. — (FNS) — Terming Senator Ernest Graham of Miami as certain to make the race for Governor, although he has not announced, the Miami Daily News says:

"Answering the question that bobs up several times daily in conversations with men and women interested in politics, Dade's Senator Graham is practically certain to make the race for the governorship. Men of influence who know their votes think well of his chances to win. It he decides to run it goes without saying he will have the support of many colleagues whose friendship he has won during his senate service. In his favor are the facts that he is an able engineer, a practical business man, honest and outspoken, and probably has done more than any single individual for the state's aged."

Commenting on the Senator's recent visit to Orlando, Martin Anderson in the Morning Sentinel says:

"Ernest Graham doesn't look anything like Miami. Instead of white shoes, a sleeveless shirt open at the neck, white flannel trousers, Graham wears a $2 blue shirt, a faded polka-dot tie, not too carefully tied. He has a bushy head of white hair and a perennial smile that starts from his bright, clear eyes and pleasantly wrinkles his mouth. He wears brown shoes, the socks and still carries his watch suspended from a chain in his trousers watch pocket. He's no wrist-watch guy. He is coatless, and looks more like West Florida than Miami."

Continuing, the Sentinel devotes a full column to the senator and sees his chances as favorable should he enter the race.

The Miami Beach Daily Tropics says: "It is now a foregone conclusion that Senator Ernest Graham will definitely be a candidate for governor. His announcement probably will be made sometimes in early November. It would be swell if we could have a Dade County man for Governor."

Jamacians Will Assist Farmers

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 7.—(FNS) — Governor Holland disclosed C. DuBolse, chief of the State Department's Caribbean division, this week, that Florida farm leaders want Jamacian laborers again this winter.

The Governor stated that he understood at least 4,500 Jamacians will be available for work in Florida and that the United States Sugar Corporation at Clewiston can use 3,500 of them.

He said definite plans should be made for placing the additional 1000 before any movement of the workers into Florida.

Present indications point to a shortage of agricultural labor in citrus and trucking areas while packinghouses, canning plants, crate and box manufacturers, feed processors, and can manufacturers, operating in this area are all facing an acute labor problem.

Florida's coming crop must be saved and while the importation of workers will help it is only a drop in the bucket. Floridians themselves are going to have to help out by working full or part time in canning plants, packinghouses and allied industries when the season gets underway if we hope to deliver to the armed services at home and aboard the vast quantities of canned and processed fruit and vegetables they require.

"Nation's Business" predicts a tremendous post-war buying power which will come when Americans start spending the millions saved during the war. Government estimates place this year's savings at $40,000,000,000. Pre-war savings, it points out, never exceeded $10,000,000,000.

Vegetable Group Meets Saturday At Clewiston Inn

ORLANDO, October 8. — The amount of acreage planted to vegetables in Florida this winter will be largely determined at Clewiston Saturday when the Florida Vegetable Committee meets to make studied recommendations to Florida growers as the result of the Washington-announced vegetable price ceiling promised for release earlier this week.

E. W. Lins, South Miami chairman of the 22-man committee representing approximately 65 per cent of the state's vegetable growing acreage, pointed out that the meeting was timed to follow the expected Washington announcement. The meeting is called for 2 o'clock at Clewiston Inn.

Lins declared that the committee was unalterably opposed to ceiling on perishable products, since such products always seek their own price level through the law of supply and demand.

"However, when the committee became reconciled to the fact that Washington insists on price ceilings, this committee and Ed O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau, went to bat in Washington to get the price ceilings announced as early as possible; thus avoiding the confusion of last year when the acreage goals were announced after the planting season was past."

"It is the committee's hope that the rollback may not roll consumers back out of fresh vegetables to eat this Winter," Lins added.

He pointed out that "unsympathetic" ceiling fixed by Washington could only mean that the committee would advise crop curtailments in the face of mounting growing, labor and packaging costs.

"We do not want the public to interpret any curtailment recommendations as unpatriotic, but growers of this state are faced with bankruptcy if the ceiling prices set are unfair," he emphasized.

Growers and shippers from all sections of the state were invited by Lins and the committee to attend the meeting.

AERIAL REFRIGERATOR

Some government planners who keep an eye on developments for the brave new world think stratosphere freezing of food is a possibility. Here's how they believe it might work:

Food, vegetables, fruits or what-have-you—is cut and prepared as usual for quick freezing up into the sub-zero temperatures of the stratosphere, and carried down to the marketing center, neatly quick-frozen and ready for sale.—Wall Street Journal.

HOW TO GET ON IN LIFE

"Tell me how to get on in life," said the kettle.

"Take panes," said the window.

"Never be led," said the pencil.

"Do a driving business," said the hammer.

"Aspire to grate things," said the nutmeg grater.

"Make light of everything," said the fire.

"Make much of small things," said the microscope.

"Never do anything offhand," said the glove.

"Reflect," said the mirror.

"Do the work you are spotted for," said the chimney.

"Be sharp," said the knife.

"Find a good thing and stick to it," said the glue.

"Try to make a good impression," said the sealing wax.

And that's why the kettle sings as she works, and works as she sings.—Rays of Sunshine.

BLACK MARKET BILLS

Black market dealings explain some of the rising demand for medium-large currency—$50 and $100 bills—big banks here say.

Demand for money of this size is moving upward, a half dozen of them report. Two institutions trace a part of the demand to payments made to seamen by the shipping company employers. Some trips cover three or four months and, including bonuses, an individual will make several hundred dollars; many are paid in $50 and $100 bills.—Wall Street Journal.

WHITE RUSSIA

Russian war bulletins announce jubilantly that red army forces have crossed the border of White Russia. Why does this seem so important to the Russians?

The official name of Russia under the present regime is the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics. There are 11 such "republics," each enjoying a measure of autonomy comparable to state's rights in America. Of these 11 republics, the Germans have been able to occupy entirely only two—White Russia and the Ukraine. White Russia was the first of the soviet socialist republics to be completely occupied by the nazis.

Now more than half of the Ukraine is back in Russian hands, and the border of White Russia has been crossed at several points. So the entry into White Russia signifies to the Russian people that the end of the war is visible over the hill. It signifies this for two reasons: First, it means that not a single soviet republic is still wholly in German hands. Secondly, it means that the old Polish frontier, where the real Russia ends, is little more than 100 miles away.—St. Petersburg Independent.

THE YEAR OF THE TOMATO

It won't go down in the history books under that name, but 1943 might well be called the Year of the Tomato. Is there any gardener within sight or hearing who hasn't all but buried himself under tomatoes? Of course not. They have even been harvesting tomatoes from window boxes. And right now suburbanites in frost-haunted regions are rapidly barring themselves under green tomatoes while they frantically scald, crush and strain the last high tide of ripe ones and fill the ketchup and chili sauce kettles. Our own carefully unconfirmed statistics show that two of every three jars sold for home canning this year are now full of tomatoes and looking around for a place to park themselves. Maybe even more.

Nobody would say anything but the kindest words for the tomato. It is a friendly, healthful vegetable, or fruit—and let's not quibble about classifications. It oozes vitamins, and even more delectable things. It has flavor and substance and color. If it doesn't help you to see at night, it ought to, for its golden carrots oh must salads. And it certainly helps you to see on the morning after.

In any normal season there are not enough tomatoes to go around, generally. Somebody sees to such things. This year season everybody with a spade-ful of soil in his hand set out 7 tomato plants. And the season, in these parts, augured well enough for tomato culture. We farmers were fed to the eyes and ears with our tomatoes and now we've stuffed every jar we can get with them. We've about ready to call it quits. Until along about Thanksgiving. By that time we'll be back to our normal state of mind with deficiency and pining for vitamins in the heart. "And, we are thankful, too, for all those jars of wonderful tomatoes if they haven't spoiled."—New York Times.

BREAKFAST GOES TO SCHOOL

Would you like to know which child in a school room falls to get listless and inattentive along about 11 o'clock in the morning? He's the youngster who had no good night's sleep and an adequate breakfast. He comes from home where some one is looking after his health.

A teacher of many years experience offers that information. She says that many of the children who are listless and inattentive trace to skimpy or trashy breakfasts that are eaten under nervous or emotional strain.

"It really is very pitiful," she says, "for a child to be the victim of selfish elders who impose their own eating habits on a household. If a reducing mother wants only melon toast and a glass of fruit juice for breakfast, let her consume it while she is giving her children cereals with thick cream, buttered toast, soft boiled eggs, fruit and cocoa."

Possibly even in Melbourne there are children who go to school without the foundation of a good breakfast.—Melbourne Times.

The immense speeds with which airplanes move nowadays, and their steadily increasing power, rise some interesting questions, not merely temporal, but philosophic.

An American observer points out, for instance, that if trans-Atlantic planes ever reach a speed of 720 miles an hour (as they may before long)—the elapsed time indicated on the clock's instruments going fast will be only five hours. Now that is the precise difference between Eastern Standard and British time. So the passengers leaving London at noon will still find it noon when he reaches New York.

To all appearances he will have crossed the Atlantic in "no time at all." And supersonic planes, as they may yet do, will cross in "less than no time."—Secondly, as author Thomas Beer says, "There is something strange in the nature of time."—Sanford Herald.

HOME CANNED POISON

The state board of health reports that many individuals who have eaten at the table from their own canned goods are going to become victims of botulism, a disease peculiar to all types of meat and transmitted primarily by the spore of a bacillus.

Spores of botulinum bacillus are highly resistant to heat and the bacillus itself can not be destroyed in boiling temperatures. Dr. Hall Hanson, state health officer, reminds Floridians in a bulletin just issued from state headquarters in Jacksonville.

The toxin forms in non-acid vegetable foods of low acidity which have not been sufficiently processed to kill the botulinum spores, the bulletin states, adding that the toxin is 20 times as powerful as cobra venom. 300 times as powerful as strychnine and 10,000 times as deadly as tetanus or lockjaw germs.

It is well worth noting that investigations of the cases of botulism reported since 1900 have been caused by home canned foods. Commercial processing has become so perfected that for nearly 20 years practically no outbreaks of the disease from commercially canned foods have been reported.

Non-acid foods which have a foul odor usually have become spoiled and should be thrown out immediately without being tasted. Dr. Hanson warns. Most of the cases of botulism have been traced to green beans and corn canned at home.—Lakeland Ledger.

CINEMATIC CHATTER.....

By MALCOLM MILLAR —
What Theatres Have To Offer During The Coming Week

There have been, in the past, some very excellent stories about China and the heroic fight they have been waging against the Japanese, but never have they brought forth such a dynamic story as the one to be related on the screen of the Prince Theatre, this coming Saturday and running through Sunday- Monday, under the title "China".

The screens toughest guy, Alan Ladd, the lovely Loretta Young and Wild Bill Bandix, the lovable lug, team up in "China" and what a trio they make.

In the east are twenty Chinese girls who portray university students whose odyssey is the theme of the story.

Trapped in the path of a Japanese advance the students, with their American teacher, Miss Young, are attempting to reach safety when they are aided by Ladd and Bendix. American citizens who have the only available means of transportation a truck and by a band of Chinese guerillas.

Against this background of war and adventure, and amid the crash of bombs, the roar of Jap planes and the rattle of machine gun fire, "China" tells a romantic story that makes the picture one of the greatest of the season.

Without fear of contradiction I can say this is one of the finest pieces of work the members of this great trio have ever done and the picture will long live in your memory.

For the Tuesday-Wednesday offering they have Chester Morris, Jean Parker and an excellent supporting cast in one of the best thrill pictures Chester has brought to us this season, under the title "High Explosives"

This one tells the story of Chester as a daring midget auto racer who gives up the racket when the war breaks out in Europe and goes in for defense work by driving nitro trucks, considered one of the most dangerous jobs a person can engage in.

Chester is madly in love with Jean Parker but he has a rival in the person of a young lad named Barry Sullivan, and very good looking, too. Chet has bad luck in his romance when he becomes involved with the rival and there is an accident which results in the death of Barry.

How Chet redeems himself in the eyes of Jean and saves the day for the nitro company makes this one of the most exciting pictures that Chester has been starred in this season.

An excellent choice of short subjects and the current news round out the evening performance and I am sure addicts of the theatre will enjoy every moment of this grand entertainment.

Thursday-Friday brings George Raft, Sidney Greenstreet, Brenda Marshall and Peter Lorre starred in "Background to Danger". In support of these popular stars are Osa Massen, Kurt, Daniel Osko, Turhan Bey and Frank Puglia. This picture is really a Sunday-Monday show and was originally slated for such a date, but arrangements were made to play it mid-week and that is the reason you are getting it on the thirty-cent cinematic fare.

A Nazi plot to destroy relations between Russia and Turkey furnishes the theme for this action-ated adventure into lurking death and creeping plotters. From every source of information comes word that this is one of the most thrilling pictures this quartette of film stars have unreeled, so I am sure you won't go wrong if you mark it down in your book for the above dates.

Saturday Tim Holt and his educated horse along with some of his Western cohorts will gallop onto the Prince screen in another thrilling adventure into the rugged West. Members of the Six-Shooters Club all hold Tim in high esteem as a cowboy who can ride, fight and shoot, so I look for quite a gathering.

By the way, did you heed the call of your Government in September and purchase that extra war bond? I hope so—and I hope you will get the habit and continue to purchase them—Get them at the Theatre and get complimentary tickes.

Again let me remind you about the change in running time at the Prince and Everglades Theatres, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday doors open at 6:45 P. M. and show starts at 7:00 P. M. promptly. Instead of starting with the feature the show will start with the news reel and the short subjects follow.

See you at the movies—Mal

Fail To Recognize Synthetic Nazis

TAMPA, Oct. 7.—(FNS)—Believe it or not, but three Nazi soldiers walked about the MacDill Field reservation here last week for the entire day unmolested.

These three men were the regulation uniforms of the German Afrika Corps. Their caps had the familiar red dot and white and black circles. Just above the breast pocket on the right hand side of each man's coat was the German eggle and the swastika and one even wore the "iron cross" decoration on his coat.

Fortunately the men in these enemy uniforms were American soldiers of the Intelligence Detachment. They were dressed in this manner and turned loose at the base to see how far they could go before they were checked on.

They mingled with the crowd in front of the base theatre, went in and out of the Service Club and post exchange, and nowhere were they stopped or questioned.

Now and then they attracted a curious glance, but soldiers explained afterwards that they thought they were members of the parachute squadron or were visiting allied airmen. No one inspected them close enough or took the trouble to identify them. All of which goes to show that "it can happen here," warns Army Intelligence.

Horse sense is that sense which keeps a horse from betting on the human race.—American Legion Monthly.

Navy sound recording devices that record underwater sounds reveal some interesting information about fish. The lovely toadfish, so common in Florida waters, makes a noise like a fog-horn whistle when amplified on the recorder. The dogfish, on the other hand, does not bark. A school of mackerel sounds very much like the propellers of a ship and it takes a trained ear to tell the difference according to a story in the current issue of Radio News.

If the war continues as favorably as at present, Florida canned citrus fruit and juice may be served to our boys for breakfast in Berlin this winter. Twenty-five million boxes of Florida canned fruit and juice are required for our armed services. Those who are employed in citrus production are just as much war workers as those who build ships or planes. Look on your local canning plant as a No. 1 war industry.

Every girl who joins up as a U. S. Cadet Nurse relieves a competent trained nurse for our armed services. Hundreds are needed in Florida. In the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps you receive training with all expenses paid and a liberal monthly allowance in addition. Inquire at the local post hospital.

Miss Frances Elam Weds Sgt. Githens

In an atmosphere filled with the fragrance of jasmine—in the presence of loved ones—before an altar made beautiful with a background of palms, tube roses and gladioli—and in the soft light of altar tapers—Miss Frances Bruce Elam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Elam of Canal Point, became the bride of Sgt. Walter E. Githens, U. S. Army Air Force, Lakeland, Fla., on Tuesday, October 5th at six o'clock in the Canal Point Methodist church.

The Rev. Edward S. Doherty, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony and used the beautiful ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white net over satin with lace bodice. She wore a finger tip veil of French illusion with a coronet of lilies of the valley, and rose buds. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a white Bible with jasmine and asalin streamers. The couple was unattended.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Betty Osborne of Charlotte, N. C. sang "At Dawning," and "Wonderful One," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Harold Rosenbeck of Canal Point, who also played the wedding marches.

At the close of the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, after which the happy couple left on a brief wedding trip, carrying with them the love and good wishes of a host of friends.

Mrs. Githens, who is a junior at Florida Southern college at Lakeland, will return to her studies while Sgt. Githens will return to his duties at Lakeland with the air force.

MOTOR OIL

When Bell Airacobras, deadly pursuit planes, are given the works on test flights their 1150 horsepower Allison engines are kept safely lubricated with Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil—the same quality Sinclair Pennsylvania sold by your nearby Sinclair Dealer.

Now that your car must last longer, keep it safely lubricated with the same quality oil that protects the Airacobra's engine at 395 m.p.h. Have your Sinclair Dealer drain and refill your crankcase with Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil every 1,000 miles. It lasts so long it saves money as well as your engine.
